Academic Football League – This program is designed to help brothers hold each other accountable for their grades. Just like a real football team when a fellow teammate when a fellow teammate is not pulling his weight it is the other members of the team’s responsibility to get that teammate back on track. No one wants to let down the rest of the team so this naturally makes everyone want to perform better. As brothers it is our responsibility to help a brother in need even though this is usually not thought of in the sense of academics.

Formation of AFL Teams –
- The Scholarship Chairman will select the Scholarship committee. The committee will be the captains of the teams. The team captain with the lowest GPA, will start the draft.
- No Trading is allowed.

Responsibilities of Team Captains
- The scholarship chairman will require that you communicate with your players once a week to obtain information to be discussed in scholarship committee meetings.
- Step one – obtain a class schedule and number of credit hours from each of your players and turn it in to the scholarship chairman.
- Step two – about three weeks into the semester, get your player’s goals for an attainable GPA this semester and a class breakdown of what grade they feel they can achieve.
- Once tests begin, meet with your players weekly. Ask what tests they had the previous week. If possible, look at the test if they did poorly and ask the reason for the low grade.
- Turn in “A” and “B” papers and tests to the scholarship chairman by Sunday night at 9:00 pm.
- Attend weekly scholarship committee and announce the progress of your players. For those doing poorly in their classes, appropriate action will be decided.

AFL Season –
- Week one of the AFL will begin when the first round of test have started.
- Scoring will be as follows:
  - An “A” on a test or paper will result in a touchdown, 7 points.
  - A “B” on a test or paper will result in a field goal, 3 points.
  - The scholarship committee will decide any borderline calls.
- Team scores will be posted in the house on the AFL poster. Team scores will also be announced each week at chapter meetings.
- The total amount of points accumulated at end of semester will be divided by the total amount of tests turned in as it will even the playing field for Brothers who don’t have as many tests as another.

Rewards and Incentives –
- Each player will contribute $2.00 at the beginning of the semester. The top team that score the most points will be rewarded with a cash prize.
- Top scoring teams will be announced each week. Team scores will be posted weekly.

7.0 Test Files and List of Professors

All brothers should contribute to the continued updating of the Test File by adding old exams, notes, books, etc. They should also make lists of professors and their teaching habits, to be made available to younger brothers.

8.0 Conclusion

This scholarship is meant to establish the Scholarship Committee, give them purpose and guidance, and provide ideas for improved scholarship through policies, resources, and incentives. The Scholarship Committee should implement this unique program and deal with each troubled brother individually. It is important to remain positive and realize that it is our duty as brothers to aid each other in our academic endeavors.
